Tony Odarg March 3, 2021

Dear Readers, unfortunately various unforeseen circumstances of a personal nature have forced me to suspend very briefly and temporarily all non-essential activities in my life, as these circumstances are going to consume all my time. I do not know how long this will last, but I don't imagine it will be any longer than two weeks. If it will take longer, I will update you on or before the 17th of March. I will update you as often as possible with short posts like this one, but my internet may not allow it. Please keep me and everyone involved in your prayers and well wishes. I cannot say anything further; when everything is resolved, which I have no reason to believe will not happen, I will explain. Don't worry about it, I will be fine. For now, that is all. – Tony
